REPORT ON THE YEAR'S ACTIVITIES

The past year has seen changes for the Trust both in location and objectives. After many successful years sharing secretarial services and office space with the Community Council for Nottinghamshire the Trust now has its own office located in the Old Bowls Pavilion within the shadow of St. Giles Parish Church, West Bridgford. The joint honorary Secretaries are now Mr. John Severn and Mr. Geoff Turner who act with support from Mrs Janet Blenkinship. The hope is that the new headquarters will serve as a meeting place for groups and individual members to study or hold discussion groups in addition to providing a location for formal committees and meetings of the Trust. More reliance is being placed on voluntary help from members of the Trust who might otherwise feel outside the main thrust of the Trust's endeavours.

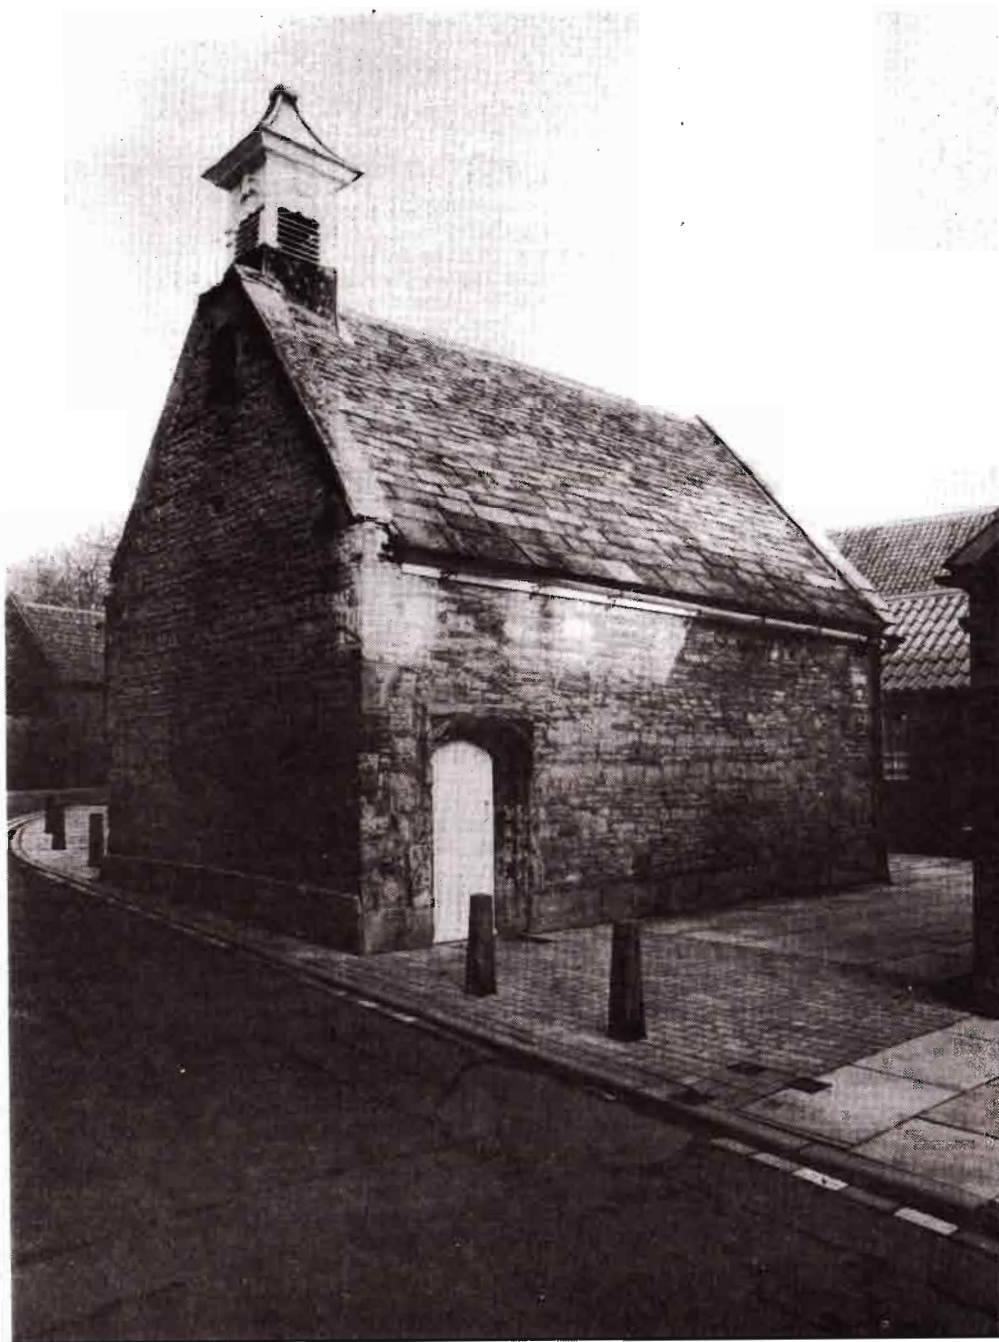

The 1981 Annual General Meeting was held in the Tudor Barn at Church Warsop at which, following the business of the meeting, a challenging talk was given by the Chairman as to the future role of the Trust supplemented by an informative discourse on recent discoveries in the history of small scale housing. An exhibition was also held showing the work of the Trust in measuring and recording buildings of local interest.

The new style Newsletter was much in evidence during the year, and four editions have been circulated to all members. The Newsletter is seen as an important link between members as well as circulating significant and interesting information of a technical and historic nature.

The annual coach tour included visits to seven of the many dovecotes in the County. The tour was organised and led by Mr. John Severn who is a leading investigator in this field. The tour was most enjoyable and ended with tea at Thrumpton Hall.

It is the intention of the Trust to establish and develop an archive, within the Trust's premises, of buildings of all types in the County. This archive would be available both locally and nationally, linked with those of other agencies. To this end measuring parties have been organised, mainly by week-end visits to Flintham and Upton. Members who took part not only spent an enjoyable time measuring and drawing up the selected buildings in good company, but also made a valuable contribution to original research and recording of some of the smaller rural domestic buildings of the county.

The Technical advisers continued to give specialist advice to the owners of listed and other vernacular buildings, and also made pertinent observations on planning and listed building applications when invited to do so by local planning authorities.

Bede House Chapel, Newark - restored and in use as the office of the Voluntary Service. A very successful joint effort between the Trust and Newark District Council

After many years of negotiation and frustration the stone farm buildings at Linby Lane, Papplewick, were finally acquired by the Trust, ready for the work of restoration to commence. The assistance given by Gedling Borough Council throughout this saga was much appreciated. The Trust is now looking forward to the challenge of once again being involved in the work of positive conservation.

We look back on an eventful year, when, it is hoped, the seeds were sown for a richer harvest of achievement in the years ahead. One outstanding problem, still in need of a solution, is to find an effective way of using the list of buildings at risk maintained for the Trust by Dr. Mike Pringle.

Thanks are due to all those who gave their time so freely in order to assist the Trust, not forgetting our Treasurer, Mr. J. Farrer and our Legal Adviser, Mr. A. Sandford

CONTRIBUTIONS

The Trust wishes to place on record its appreciation for the donations so kindly given by Local Authorities, in the year under review, in support of its work. The amounts received are shown below:

	£
Nottinghamshire County Council	675
Gedling Borough Council	1,000
Newark District Council	1,500
Nottingham City Council	1,270
Rushcliffe Borough Council	1,105

In addition to its annual grant, Nottinghamshire County Council made a contribution of £4,250 to assist the Trust in the major expense of establishing its new offices. This sum of money was greatly appreciated.
